

WHO ARE WE? ✦

We are a family-run Galician canning company committed to producing premium fish and seafood preserves. Our products are hand-packed, as they have been for generations, allowing us to preserve the exceptional quality of our products and deliver the full flavour of the sea in every tin – along with textures and aromas you thought had been lost. At Conservas Rías Baixas, caring for our products, our people, and the environment is our top priority.

OUR PRODUCTS ✦

Our preserves are prepared using the same traditional methods: we select the finest fish and seafood, which are cleaned and cooked following recipes passed down through generations.

We carefully hand-pack every tin before sealing and sterilising it under the strictest safety controls, ensuring that, when opened, every tin is just as fresh as the day it was packed.

GARFISH (NEEDLE FISH)

We create premium Cantabrian garfish preserves, which are carefully selected and hand-packed. Available in olive oil, sunflower oil, or escabeche (pickled), and in a variety of formats.

MACKEREL

We offer mackerel fillets as well as small whole mackerel in a variety of sauces and formats, catering to the needs of both individual consumers and the food service sector.

SMALL HORSE MACKEREL

We produce premium small horse mackerel preserves, carefully prepared and available in a variety of sauces and formats to suit every taste and occasion.

MUSSELS

We prepare our mussel preserves using traditional methods, with mussels sourced from the Galician Rías, New Zealand, and Chile. Available in a variety of formats to meet the needs of both retail consumers and the foodservice sector.

FRIGATE TUNA (MELVA)

We offer carefully selected frigate tuna fillets, packed in olive oil or sunflower oil, and available in a range of formats for both the retail and foodservice sectors.

SARDINES AND SARDINILLAS (SMALL SARDINES)

Carefully selected, cleaned and traditionally hand-packed, our sardines are preserved in a variety of oils and sauces that enhance their delicate texture and rich flavour.

TUNA BELLY (VENTRESCA)

Our albacore and yellowfin tuna belly is carefully prepared by hand, with meticulous attention to presentation, resulting in a delicately tender and succulent product that satisfies even the most discerning palates.

SPECIALTIES

We offer a wide range of speciality products, crafted with the same care and quality that define all our preserves, featuring signature recipes that deliver a unique culinary experience.

PLANT-BASED PROTEIN

Our plant-based protein range, available in a variety of flavours and textures, represents a new generation of preserves: healthy, 100% plant-based, allergen-free, gluten-free and environmentally sustainable.

OUR BRANDS

Our preserves are marketed under a selection of brands, each representing distinct product lines. What unites them all is a shared commitment to quality, sustainability and the craftsmanship passed down through three generations.
